Overview

Find alternative fueling stations in the United States and Canada. By default, this tool displays only available, publicly accessible stations. An unexpected error. The U. Department of Energy Hydrogen Program, led by the Hydrogen and Fuel Cell Technologies Office (HFTO) within the Office of Energy Efficiency and Renewable Energy (EERE), conducts research and development in hydrogen production, delivery, infrastructure, storage, fuel cells, and multiple end. NLR's technology validation team is analyzing the availability and performance of existing hydrogen fueling stations, benchmarking the current status, and providing feedback related to capacity, utilization, station build time, maintenance, fueling, and geographic coverage. As the market grows for. Hydrogen as an alternative energy source is most commonly used in hydrogen fuel cells, which power hydrogen fuel cell electric vehicles (FCEVs) among many other use cases. Vehicles and other machines that use these cells require hydrogen fueling stations to replenish them, much like their gasoline-. Manufacturers including Hyundai and Toyota are currently offering production FCEVs for sale or lease to customers in markets where hydrogen fuel is available, primarily in California.
