

Photovoltaic aluminum alloy bracket installation cost

Overview

On average, for a small residential solar panel system, the cost of the connectors themselves might range from $50 to $200, depending on the material and quantity. Now, the installation costs can vary quite a bit, and there are several factors that come into play. Material of the Connectors The material of the photovoltaic bracket connectors can have a big impact on the cost. There are different types out there, like stainless - steel, aluminum, and even. Labor costs are a significant part of the installation cost of photovoltaic brackets. Roof Type and Condition The type of pitched roof and its condition are crucial. Though aluminum costs 15-20% more per ton than steel, its durability cuts replacement and repair expenses.
